The Pablo Collection

C. C. Leathers Inc. is renowned for providing access to a wide range of beautiful and often unusual leathers for designers. We are pleased to add a new and exotic leather that will allow designers to offer something unique to their clients: The Pablo Collection.

Pablo is an amazing collection of soft, pliant natural fish skins available in the most vibrant selection of fashion colors – colors previously not found in this type of product. Shimmering sapphire blues, stunning yellows, vibrant reds along with metallic combinations and more.

Instead of individual small fish skins, a new pioneering technology “welds” same-size skins together into usable panels. This innovative concept provides uniform, highly durable fish skin panels that are large enough for a wide range of larger-scale applications not possible before such as wall panels and upholstery.

Examples of Leathers

A very exclusive product, these panels breathe fresh life into leather wall panels. Utilizing smaller scale salmon skins and larger scale pirarucu skins, panels can be made of entirely one type of fish or a combination of both fish for a more textured look.

Panels are approximately 20" wide and available in 40" lengths or longer lengths at an up charge.

The Pablo Collection

Sustainability

Both fish are a bi-product of the food industry coming from sustainable managed farms controlled and regulated by IBAMA – the Brazilian Institute of Environment and Renewable Natural Resources. What would normally be waste skins are now transformed into beautiful, award-winning exotic leather that is extremely soft and durable as well as environmentally responsible.

Chrome-free, organic tanning allows for more natural and vivid color fixing, adding value to the fabrication of wall panels and furniture. Constant research and development has resulted in tanning methods that provides this exclusive “bio leather”. Based on a blend of biodegradable acrylic resins, polymers, synthetic and vegetable tannins, this provides superior quality leather free of heavy metals and environmentally safe.

The Pablo Collection

Pablo Eco-Friendly

The tannery that provides Pablo integrates small farmers, fishermen and indigenous communities that recycle a part of the fish that otherwise would end up in a landfill site and provides a unique, high quality leather that can be used by interior design markets globally. A CITES, (Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Wild Fauna and Flora) certificate is issued with each shipment.
