Leather Wall Panels

Cladding walls in genuine leather will make any interior luxurious and unique. The rich and lustrous patina of leather as well as the seductive aroma provides sophistication unequalled by other materials.

Whether for traditional or modern interiors, residential, hospitality or corporate interiors, leather wall panels will add warmth and luxury and upscale any room.

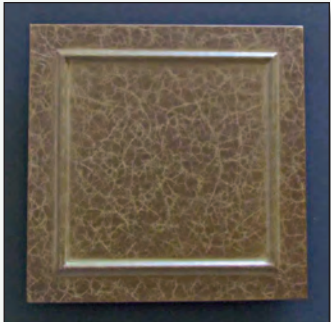

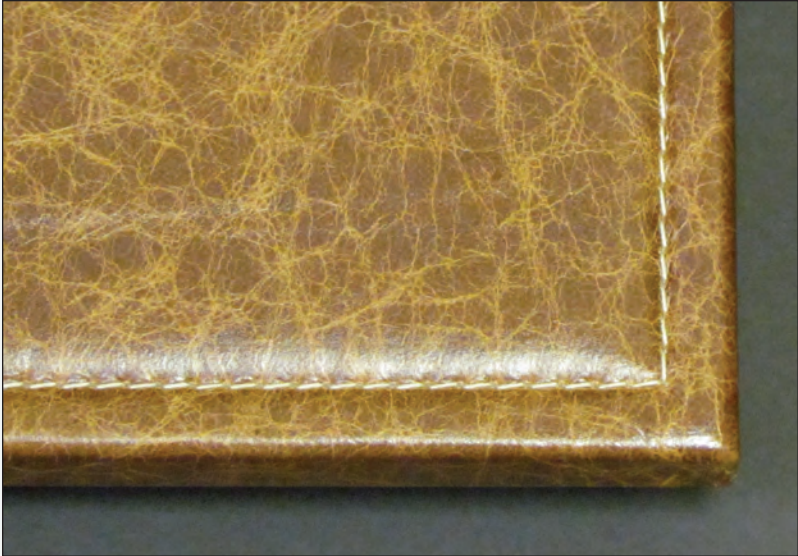

Leather may be laminated

Leather Wall Panels

Leather may be laminated directly to the MDF core or various thicknesses of foam may be added for a softer, more tactile feel.

Leather Wall Panels

Panels may be completely customized including button tufted or decorative perimeter stitching or tacking added. Architectural detailing such as molding underneath the leather provides a more traditional look, ideal in formal home libraries or studies.

Leather Wall Panels

Panels are available in over 125 lines of leather, providing over 2,000 colors in a variety of textures and finishes. Leathers include metallics, distressed, antique, sheep skin, hair-on, laser engraved, woven as well as embossed leathers such as shagreen, alligator, damask and more.

Endless possibilities are available designed and handcrafted to your specifications. Panels may be sized to fit walls perfectly, side to side and floor to ceiling. Also ideal for headboards.

Our upholstery leathers are wrapped around an MDF core of any size or shape, providing individual panels for wall application. The leather is wrapped onto the underside and glued to the back surface. Our craftspeople ensure that the folded leathers on the corners are tapered to provide a clean fit when butted together with other panels.

Our Pablo Collection offers an amazing line of soft, pliable, natural fish skins. Available in the most vibrant selection of fashion colors, the skins utilize innovative new technology and are “welded” together to produce uniform panels suitable for walls, headboards and other large items – not possible before with small, individual skins.

Another version features smaller panels inset into various styles of frames, available in any wood and fabricated to your specifications. Thinner custom shaped panels may also be used for millwork such as reception desks. Leather may also be embossed with logos.

Our staff is here to assist with your design. Memo samples of our leathers are available at no charge. Mockup panels are available at a charge.
